A Ouestion of Marriage and Joint . Ownership of Property.

THE INDICTED COTTON SAMPLERS.

Curious Defence in a Mortgage Foreclosure Suit.

A case involving several important legal questions is now on trial before Chief Justice Daly in the Equity Term of the Court of Common Pleas. In Oc-tober, 1865, Ursule Tannay, a French widow, became sequainted with a tinware manufacturer named Jean mutual friendship and attachment and they lived together as husband and wife. They were not in together as husband and wife. They were not in very good pecuniary circumstances then, and she assisted by sewing and doing other light work. They started, in 1869, a tinware business at No. Si Thompson street and amassed a fortune of $7,000, $5,000 of which was deposited in the Union Dime Savings Bank. They lived together happily until October last. The cause of their trouble was the purchase of the house No. 208 Spring street by Esposito in his own name, as she claims, without her consent. It appears that when they started in business he agreed to give her half of the profits and consequently she was entitled to $3,000. When the house was bought Mrs. Esposito requested Jean to convey the house in her name as well as in his own, which he refused, and ordered her out of the house with her son, Ed. Tannay. Feeling aggrieved she called upon Mr. Alfred Steckler, her counsed, who immediately brought suit to recover the $3,000, her alleged share, and to make her joint owner of the property. Mrs. Esposito took the witness stand and was examined for over two hours by Mr. Steckler, during which she narrated the story as given above. The bank officers of the Union Dime bank testified that $5,000 was withdrawn by the defendant about a year ago and that the money was in both names. Eurosito in his defence denies that he is the husband of Mrs. Esposito and claims that the money for which he bugght the property was earned by him solely. The trial was not concluded and will be resumed to-day. Ex-Judge Clark and Robert H. Pollock appear for the defendant.

THE "COTTON SAMPLERS" PLEAD. samplers was much increased yesterday when many of them were called to the bar or the General Sesof them were called to the bar of the General Sessions, before Judge Cowing, to plead to the indictments found against them by the Grand Jury. Messrs. John Collins, Nicholas Collins, Thomas Costello, Michael Costello, Thomas Manton, Michael Dollard, William Campbell, Thomas Horan, James McLaughlin, James F. Byrnes, Edward Rawlins, James Banacum, Thomas Dougherty, Thomas Farrell and John Martin were indicted on the 6th of June. Mr. William F. Kintzing appeared as counsel for all the prisoners. Some of them were accussed of the larceny of cotton; others for receiving the same knowing it to be stolen. The indictments were found at the instance of the Cotton Exchange, the intention being to break up the system which had long existed between samplers and brokers in robbing cotton merchants. Each of the prisoners, through Mr. Kintzing, pleaded not guilty. Assistant District Attorney Bell notified counsel that he would move the trial of the defendants at the present term of the Court. Mr. Aaron J. Vanderpoel, counsel for the Court. Mr. Aaron J. Vanderpoel, counsel for the Cotton Exchange, is associated with Assistant District Attorney Bell in the prosecution.

CURIOUS MORTGAGE CASE. There was commenced yesterday, before Judge Van Brunt, holding Supreme Court, Circuit, the trial of a foreclosure suit brought by the Union Dime Savings Bank, of New York city, against Mary Eggers and others, upon a mortgage for $6,500, executed in June, 1872, on the premises No. 158 South Fifth avenue. The suit is one in equity, to settle the question whether Mrs. Louisa Wilson, one of the alleged mortgagors, who is imbecile, was of sound mind at the time of the execution of the instrument. The mortgage purports to have been signed by Mrs. Eggers, Louisa Wilson and Charles H. Wilson. The defence interposed is solely on behalf of Mrs. Wilson, who now owns the mortgaged property. It was shown in the evidence that she was declared an imbecile in May, 1878, and that she has been of unsound mind for the past sixteen years; that she is deaf and blind and can neither read nor write. On behalf of the bank it is claimed that Mrs. Wilson, although seventy-three years of age, and deaf and blind, is still a woman of fair intelligence and that the defence interposed in this and other similar suits is the result of a conspiracy.

"CUSTOM OF THE TRADE." Messrs. Brewster & Co., the carriage manufac

SUMMARY OF LAW CASES. Richard Walton pleaded guilty, in the Court of General Sessions, yesterday, to the charge of having stolen a watch from Charles Herring, of No. 107 East Seventh street, while riding in a Forty-second East Seventh street, while riding in a Forly-second Street Railroad car. Judge Gildersleeve sent him to the State Prison for two years and six months. William Burke, alias Stacey, alias Sandshull, recently brought here from California by Detectives O'Connor and Redgers, was arraigned by Assistant District Attorney Rollins yesterday in the Court of General Sessions, charged with the murder of Alice Strickland, in a saloon corner of Forsyth and Rivington streets, on the night of the 10th of June, 1877. Owing to the absence of his counsel the prisoner was excused from pleading. The trial has been set down for to-day, before Judge Gildersleeve.

The Grand Jury, on complaint of the Society for the Prevention of Crueity to Children, found an indictment against Mrs. Elizabeth Lentze, who formerly resided at No. 47 West Broadway, for cruelly beating her son William, aged three years. Just as the indictment was being found information was received that the woman had died in the insane asylum on Blackwell's Island, where she has recently been confined. From the effects of hard drinking Mrs. Leutze became almost a wrock. The boy is still in the New York Hospital, recovering from the effects of the ill-treatment.

There was suchter hearing before Surrogate Calvin still in the New York Hospital, recovering from the effects of the ill-treatment.

There was another hearing before Surrogate Calvin yesterday in the Berrian will contest. The former bookkeeper of Daniel Ferrian, the deceased testator, was examined at length in relation to the business and social habits of the deceased. Mr. Berrian, as will be remembered, gave most of his property to a Mrs. Steele, of Staten Island, and the will is now being contested by his family.

Mesers. Brewster & Co., the carriage manufacturers, brought a suit against Mr. Rufus Hatch to recover a balance of $445 42 claimed to be due for repairs and carriages. Mr. Hatch disputed the bill on the ground that the charges were excessed at $1,000, and its value as well as that of other positions of the bill were disputed. A peculiar feature of the bill were disputed by the consideration for any patronage he might bring them. This, it was contended on the side of Mr. Hatch, was in the nature of a bribe to his coachman, while the plaintiffs justified it as a custom of the frade. The case was unfinished at the hour of adjournment.

THE LATE HARLEM MURDER. At the eponing of the Chambers of the Supreme Court yesterday Mr. William F. Kintziug, counsel for Frank Beillo and Francisco Accetta, the Italians charged with the murder of Antonio Colendens, a countryman, in Harlem upon the 4th inst., made application to Judge Brady for a writ of habesa corpus. It will be remembered that Antonio was stabbed to the heart with a stiletion in the hands of Bello, while Francisco Accetta, who it is charged was an accessory to the act, was committed for the Draw and accessory to the act, was committed for the Draw and the silence of the Court of Court is claimed, however, to have been justifiable. Accetta degies any complicity in the act. After hearing the silence of the Court of Coneral Session y sesserior.

HOMICIDE

Adrunken woman named Elizabeth Adair a few days ago was committed to the Island by the magis-trate in Essex Market Court. Before she was retrate in Essex Market Court. Before she was removed from the prison adjoining the court room a seemingly respectable man told the Justice that she was his wife and the mother of fourteen children. They had, he said, been in the city only about two weeks, leaving their former home in Paterson to come here.

"I cannot get along without her, Judge," he added, "What will become of our poor children? She is a hard working woman, sir, and will not, I can assure you, ever be brought to court again."

The magistrate thereupon discharged her. On Sinday night Adair and his wife drank to excess and quarrelled. The former went out in the street, and returning with a heavy stone struck her with it on the head. Their children stood by unable to interfere. Word was sent to Policeman Curry, of the Eleventh precinct, who succeeded in arresting Adair shortly after one o'clock yesterday morning. The wite was found tying on the floor in a pool of blood. She was conveyed to Bellevue Hospital where her condition is deemed critical. The couple occupied miserable apartments containing only a mattress and a stove. Adair was committed without bail in Essex Market Court to await the result of his wife's injuries.

The Baptist ministers yesterday continued their discussion on plagiarism evoked by their Chicago brother's notable sin in this direction. While conbrother's notable sin in this direction. While condemning the practice of ministers palming off other men's thoughts and words as their own they were not so rabid in their denunciation as they were a week ago. They could not see now why a man should be condemned so unsparingly as Dr. Lorimer has been for word plagiarism when the great body of ministers of all denominations use other men's thoughts and ideas, necessarily so, in their serimons without any sense of shame or of dishonesty in themselves or in the public mind. The question is of absorbing interest to ministers, and so many instances of clerical plagiarists have come to light since the discussion first bogan some weeks ago it would seem that almost the entire liaptist ministry, if not that of other denominations also, is guilty of this moral deception and dishonerty. Hence the discussion yesterday took on the form of "whitewashing," or clearing the cloth from such wholesale imputations. REAL ESTATE.

EXPLOSION ON THE DANIEL BROWN.

The report of the United States Local Inspector of Steam Vessels in regard to the explosion of the boiler of the tug Daniel Brown, which occurred on the morning of October 29, was yesterday forwarded to the department at Washington. The tug at the time was engaged in landing a bark alongside pier 49 East River. The explosion instantly killed Daniel Haviland, deck hand, and william van Alken, fireman, and so severely injured George Coon, the engineer, as to confine him for a long time to the hospital. It was on account of the engineer's illness that the Board delayed so long in making and forwarding their report of the occurrence. The two was purchased by its present owners at few weeks previous to the accident, and on examination at the time it was found that the boiler needed some repairs and some calking, which she received. The boiler was duly inspected in March last and was then allowed to carry a steam pressure of eighty pounds. The cvicarry a steam pressure of cighty pounds. The cridence given went to show that this pressure was never exceeded; but as the steam was blowing off in the safety valve, and as it was proved there was sufficient water in the boiler, the inspectors are of the opinion that the explosion was due to excessive steam pressure, though there was no evidence to establish that fact. In conclusion the inspectors state that as the engineer of the tug, George Coon, has failed since his recovery from his injuries to make any report of the disaster, they revoke his license. The tugboat, which was worth $2,500, has not yet been raised.
